2. Purpose of Report

This report is lodged to officially document and seek the intervention of your office regarding a dangerous pattern of unlawful intrusions, criminal trespass, and harassment directed at my rented residence. The actions of the property caretaker and the alleged landlady violate my right to quiet enjoyment and exclusive possession, and they have severely compromised the safety, health, and peace of mind of vulnerable occupants—specifically my elderly mother, who suffers from dementia.

- Caretaker: Miss Oluwatoyin Olamoyesan (+234 706 446 7668)
- Landlady: Mrs Olutosin Costa (Refuses to disclose direct contact details and insists on anonymity)

3. Chronology of Incidents

Over the past four months, the property caretaker has repeatedly bypassed protocol, ignored explicit instructions, and forced unauthorised entry into the premises without prior notice, permission, or any legal justification.

- First Incident (30th May 2026 at approx. 5:30 PM):

- The caretaker arrived at the property to deliver a quit notice. Despite being explicitly informed by the occupants that strict instructions had been left prohibiting unauthorised entries without prior consent, she forced her way onto the premises.
- Second Incident (25th August 2026 at approx. 2:30 PM):
 - The caretaker arrived unannounced and without any prior notice or permission. On this occasion, she was accompanied by the alleged owner of the property and a third unknown individual. When challenged by the carer and assistant, the parties falsely claimed that I (the tenant) had been duly informed of their visit, which was entirely false.

4. Legal Grounds and Violations

The actions of the caretaker and the landlady constitute severe infractions under Lagos State laws and general property regulations:

- Breach of Right to Exclusive Possession and Quiet Enjoyment: Under the Tenancy Law of Lagos State, a tenant who has paid rent is entitled to exclusive possession of the property. Ownership of the physical structure does not grant the landlord or their agent the automatic right to enter a tenant's residence at will.
- Civil and Criminal Trespass: Entering a tenant's residence without consent, notice, or a legally recognised emergency (such as a fire or flood) constitutes trespass. The unauthorised intrusion by multiple unidentified individuals on August 25 escalates this from a civil breach to a serious security and privacy threat.
- Endangerment and Harassment of a Vulnerable Person: Subjecting an elderly dementia patient and her support staff to unannounced, confrontational home invasions creates a hostile and unsafe living environment, aggravating her medical condition and causing profound emotional distress.

5. Relief / Action Sought

I respectfully request the intervention of your esteemed office to invite the caretaker (Miss Oluwatoyin Olamoyesan) and the property owner (Mrs. Olutosin Costa) for a formal warning, investigation, and caution, ensuring that:

1. They immediately cease and desist from making any further unannounced, unauthorised, or forceful visits to the property.
2. They adhere strictly to proper legal channels and statutory notice requirements regarding any legitimate business concerning the tenancy.
3. The peace, safety, and security of my elderly mother and her caregivers are strictly preserved moving forward.

Thank you for your prompt attention and intervention in this matter.

Yours faithfully,

Olarinde Ajai
